

Biography

Ms.Park was born in South Korea and started taking piano lesson at 5 years old. Currently, she is a student at the University of North Texas and pursuing her piano performance degree in music (B.M.).

She has been a main keyboardist for worship service and accompanied choirs at churches for 2 years. She received her pedagogical trainings at the University of North Texas and has also given piano lessons to all ages for over 3 years in Dallas areas. She has been actively teaching both group and private piano lessons using a variety of methods tailored to fit the unique needs of her students. She likes to give various visual, ear-training and game activities to students. She believes that her role as an educator is to give a warming and safe environment so that the students can feel free to be themselves, make mistakes, cultivate enthusiasm in music and learn. She is a member of TMTA (Texas Music Teachers Association) and MTNA (Music Teachers National Association).
